

Sweet Wolferl, Unruly Rogue - Mozart in Vienna

Although a native of Salzburg, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart spent a considerable part of his life in Vienna. He was six when he performed at Schoenbrunn Palace. As an adult, he spent his most creative years in the imperial city where he hoped to reach world fame. It did not quite work out like that as we will learn in the course of this illustrated walk that takes us to places associated with Mozart, the places where he triumphed and where he failed, where he lived and where he died.

Meeting Point:

1., Josefsplatz, in front of the monument

Attention: Depending on opening times, the exhibition at the Mozart House in Domgasse can be included in the tour on request (Admission fee)
